COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course addresses history in the land that becomes the United States of America, beginning with the migration of the Western Hemisphere's original inhabitants. It briefly surveys the pre-Columbian Native American cultures. It also examines the impacts of the European "discovery" and settlement of North America on various groups of Native Americans, on Europeans at home and in the colonies, and on Africans forced into slavery in the New World. The course emphasizes the political, economic, social, cultural and religious aspects of life in the English North American colonies through their evolution into the United States, from the country's developmental years through the end of the Civil War. This course partially satisfies the writing requirements outlined in the General Education Requirements. (Note: Credit is only given for AMH 2010 or AMH 2010H or IDS 2103H.)

Prerequisite: (ENC 0025 and REA 0017) Or EAP 1695 or an appropriate score on the college placement test.

COURSE GOALS

- 1) To examine the development of American political and cultural institutions in the context of the nation's increasing industrial, economic, and population resources.

PLEASE BE AWARE: THE INSTRUCTOR RETAINS THE RIGHT TO MAKE MODIFICATIONS TO THE SYLLABUS, SCHEDULE, LIST OF READINGS, AND DUE DATES AS WARRANTED THROUGHOUT THE SEMESTER.

- 2) To understand history as a process rather than as a stagnant collection of facts and figures.
- 3) To research important events in American history via both conventional “hard-copy” and web resources.
- 4) To develop historical interpretations based upon sound methodological frameworks.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Successful Students who complete the History classes will be able:

- to demonstrate the ability to read and write as students of history, which means that they will be able to comprehend written material, describe the relevant issues, understand the basic arguments and then defend their own positions;
- to show their familiarity with major events, personalities and issues related to the period being studied;
- to approach the literature critically, analyzing and synthesizing information to answer or produce arguments and counter-arguments within the field;
- to address the historiography of the topic, which means that they will be able to think critically about the issues and how other historians have interpreted them:
- to use historical data to make judgments on historical topics.

INTERNET USAGE AND ELECTRONIC DEVICES

All electronic devices such as cell phones, beepers, pagers, and related devices are to be turned off prior to entering any classroom, library or laboratory. Use of any device in these areas is a violation of College Policy and subject to disciplinary action.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

Grades for the course will be based upon four exams.

4 Exams = (25% each) 100%

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to be in class and ready to begin on-time and to remain for the duration of the class. Important announcements and instructions may be provided during the first few or last few minutes of class; any student not present will miss this information. Arriving late or leaving early also causes a disruption to the class and is disrespectful to the instructor and to other students.

If a student misses a class, it is their responsibility to get any assignments and other materials that they may have missed by seeing me during my office hours (before or after class), by checking the course MyCourse site, or by contacting a classmate. If a student is absent on a day that graded work is returned in class, it is their responsibility to see me during my office hours to retrieve the work.

Academic Honesty

Academic Honesty Students are expected to respect and uphold the standards of honesty in submitting written work to instructors. Though occurring in many forms, plagiarism in essence involves the presentation of another person's work as if it were the work of the presenter. Any cheating or plagiarism will result in disciplinary action to be determined by the instructor based on the severity and nature of the offense. It is the student's responsibility to review the online Student Conduct Code, Student Expectations, and Academic Honesty Policy, and comply with them. For additional information on SPC's Academic Policy go to HYPERLINK "http://www.spcollege.edu/webcentral/admit/honesty.htm"<http://www.spcollege.edu/webcentral/admit/honesty.htm>.

Late work: Exams and quizzes must be completed on time. All other work will be accepted for reduced credit up to one week after the original due date for written work. You will be penalized 5% off for every day late. After seven days, no work will be accepted. Due to extended days to complete online course work, there are NO EXCEPTIONS FOR HOLIDAYS, TRIPS, PERSONAL SCHEDULES, ILLNESSES, AND/OR CONNECTION / COMPUTER PROBLEMS. DO NOT WAIT until the last day/ hours to take any quiz or complete any assignment. If you wait to complete your work, you accept the risk of computer/server problems preventing your completion of an assignment.

Communication/ Email should only be sent from your official student email account to be used for all college- related email communication. I will not read/accept communication through the MyCourse assignment comment boxes. I will send email messages only to your official address, and I will not respond to messages from you sent from any other account. This policy has been developed for the protection of your privacy.

PLEASE BE AWARE: THE INSTRUCTOR RETAINS THE RIGHT TO MAKE MODIFICATIONS TO THE SYLLABUS, SCHEDULE, LIST OF READINGS, AND DUE DATES AS WARRANTED THROUGHOUT THE SEMESTER.

Free speech and academic freedom are fundamental to the educational experience. Along with that freedom comes the responsibility for one's own thoughts, speech, and actions, and the expectation of respect for other individuals. Therefore, a student should feel free to express any view that he/she may have, within reason. And every student should do so in a manner appropriate for a classroom and with respect for the rights and interests of others. Appropriate classroom behavior is required, and disruption of the classroom teaching environment is unacceptable. I do not expect class disruptions. If a situation arises, I may ask a student to leave.

Writing Assignments: All writing for this class must be written for this class. Reusing a paper, you wrote for another class constitutes academic dishonesty and will result in a "zero" for the assignment. All papers to be turned in for a grade must be typed and organized according to MLA, APA or Chicago Style guidelines. This includes, but is not limited to: 12pt. font, Times New Roman or Calibri, double space, one-inch margins, indent the first line of each new paragraph, left-justified, do not skip lines between paragraphs, Bibliography (Works Cited). Substantial points will be deducted from papers that do not strictly adhere to formatting guidelines. As this is a Gordon Rule course, you must display a good command of the English language. I expect that you will take it upon yourself to seek the available resources if you are having difficulty with some aspect of grammar.

All formal writing assignments must be submitted to MyCourse in the appropriate drop box or they will not be accepted for a grade. Any assignment submitted through email, or the comment box, will not be opened or accepted for a grade.

Plagiarism is intentionally or carelessly presenting the work of another as one's own. It includes submitting an assignment purporting to be the student's original work which has wholly or in part been created by another person. It also includes the presentation of the work, ideas, representations, or words of another person without customary and proper acknowledgement of sources. Students must consult with their instructors for clarification in any situation in which the need for documentation is an issue, and will have plagiarized in any situation in which their work is not properly documented.

- Every direct quotation must be identified by quotation marks or appropriate indentation and must be properly acknowledged by parenthetical citation in the text or in a footnote or endnote.
- When material from another source is paraphrased or summarized in whole or in part in one's own words, that source must be acknowledged in a footnote or endnote, or by parenthetical citation in the text.
- Information gained in reading or research that is not common professional knowledge must be acknowledged in a parenthetical citation in the text or in a footnote or endnote.
- This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, the use of papers, reports, projects, and other such materials prepared by someone else.

Grading: Each assignment has detailed instructions, as well as a rubric that outlines exactly what is expected of students. There is no doubt what is expected to earn each grade when you pay attention to these resources. Once a student has uploaded any work to Canvas they are certifying that it is complete and ready to be graded. You may upload completed work at any time. However, once work has been uploaded, regardless of the due date, that work will be graded. Grading may occur at any time after a student has uploaded. Allow up to 2 weeks for assignments to be graded. I do not round grades. Do not ask for opportunities to better your grade (extra credit) that other students do not get. I will not ever give one student an unfair opportunity over others.
